

GRAHAM LEWIS

PhD Student
University of Minnesota

lewi1837@umn.edu
<https://grahamelewis.github.io/>

ACADEMIC INTERESTS

Empirical macroeconomics, consumption dynamics, labor economics, urban economics

EDUCATION

Doctoral Studies

- Ph.D. in Economics, University of Minnesota (2023-2029)

Prior Studies

- B.S. in Economics, Mathematics, and Chinese (minor), Georgia Institute of Technology, (2018-2022), highest honors.

PUBLISHED PAPERS

1. Work from home, polarization, and new residential construction during COVID-19 (joint with Dylan Brewer). Applied Economics Letters.

WORK IN PROGRESS

- On The Welfare Cost of Idiosyncratic Risk (joint with Anmol Bhandari)
- Screening by Payment: A Theory of Eviction (joint with Ethan Cohen)
- The Macroeconomics of an Aging Innovative Workforce (joint with Jason Hall)

TEACHING

- Intermediate Macroeconomics, Instructor, University of Minnesota (Summer 2025)
- Intermediate Macroeconomics, Head Teaching Assistant, University of Minnesota (Spring 2025, Fall 2024).
- Intermediate Microeconomics, Teaching Assistant, University of Minnesota (Fall 2024, Summer 2024).
- Intermediate Macroeconomics, Teaching Assistant, University of Minnesota (Summer 2024).
- Principles of Macroeconomics, Teaching Assistant, University of Minnesota (Spring 2024).
- Principles of Microeconomics, Teaching Assistant, University of Minnesota (Fall 2023).
- Differential Equations, Teaching Assistant, Georgia Institute of Technology (Fall 2022)
- Multivariable Calculus, Teaching Assistant, Georgia Institute of Technology (Spring 2022)

AWARDS

- Distinguished Teaching Assistant (Spring 2025, Fall 2024, Spring 2024, Fall 2023)

¹Updated February 27, 2026